

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

It seems that with all the effort to control campaign spending that the public is not being served with presenting a apparently one sided documentary without equal time from the other side. Isn't two sided politics what makes Ameerica strong- not corporate airwave control..